Marc Adamus has a reputation that precedes him and he is unquestionably responsible for the wow factor in modern landscape photography. Marc pioneered his original style creating groundbreaking images while others played catch up.

Marc's style is unmistakable. His talent for rare captures of amazing light and fleeting atmosphere imbue his portfolio with a sense of the epic, majestic and the bold. His success derives from a patient single-minded pursuit of all the unique moments that generate the magic and energy of the wilderness.

Marc's photographs have been published extensively worldwide in a large variety of media ranging from calendars, books, advertising and the publications of National Geographic, Outdoor Photographer, Popular Photography and over a hundred more. Marc's clients have included Fortune-500 companies such as Apple, HP, Toshiba, Blackberry and more, in addition to wilderness focused enterprises such as the Wilderness Society and Sierra Club.

COME AND LEARN FROM A GENUINE MASTER

WORKSHOP PROGRAMME

The workshop commences at 11am Monday 7th October at our meet up on the Causeway Coast. Marc will provide an introductory chat about his work and style as well as a low down on what you can expect to learn over the next few days.

You will then go out for a sunset shoot, with Michael McLaughlin working the locations while Marc provides the inspiration and technique.

It really is a unique chance to see how a genuine master works.

Day 2 will entail sunrise and sunset shoots as well as an in-depth look at Marc's processing techniques, Day 3 will see the end of the workshop with breakfast and goodbyes after the sunrise shoot.

You will be staying in comfortable lodgings in self catering houses on the Causeway Coast.

Fee Includes: Accommodation for 2 nights, Transportation, Dinner for 2 nights
